THE CHICAGO DENTAL SOCIETY

Volume 31 • Number 10

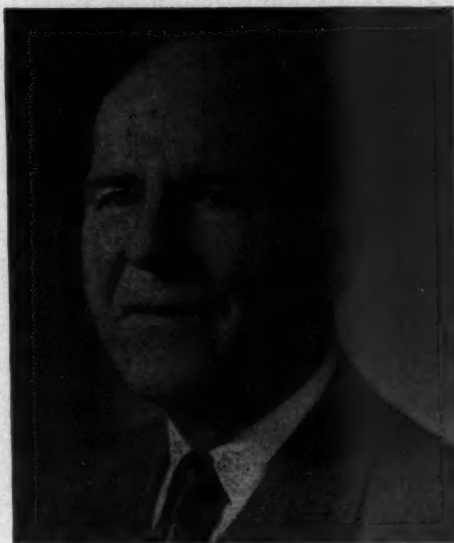

Newly-Elected Officers to Be Installed At May Monthly Meeting

Tuesday evening, May 22nd, will mark the installation of the newly-elected officers of the Chicago Dental Society, another in a long series of such ceremonies which have marked the beginning of many successful regimes over the years. It will be the pleasant duty of Dr. Gustav Solfronk to install the new officers, one of the last official acts in a very successful year of service to the Society and a very fitting conclusion. Those installed will officially assume office June 1st.

Aiding Dr. Edward Luebke, President, will be an extremely capable and experienced group of new officers, with Dr. Ernest Goldhorn as Vice-president, Dr. George W. Teuscher as Secretary, and Dr. James N. Lynch as Treasurer. Dr. Walter E. Dundon, President-elect, will assume office on June 1st, 1957, but no doubt will be of real assistance.

The new Directors to join the Board are Dr. O. E. Scott of the North Suburban Branch and Dr. Eric R. Lindholm of the Englewood Branch, who come to the Board with a broad background of experience and service. They succeed Dr. Olan B. Kibler and Dr. Ernest Goldhorn, respectively.

Dr. Edward W. Luebke, President

PRESIDENT

Dr. Edward W. Luebke assumes the reins of the presidency of the Chicago Dental Society after a year of preparation as President-elect. During this past year he was also Midwinter Meeting Affairs Chairman, in which office he again served with distinction. Ed was born in Clintonville, Wisconsin, where he was educated and spent his youth. In 1913 he was graduated from the Chicago College of Dental Surgery, Loyola University and began practice on the North Side where he still maintains a very active general practice. He spends most of his summers looking after his numerous interests in Clintonville where he is the unofficial Mayor. His business acumen will stand him in good stead in his position of leadership in the Society.

Ed brings to the presidency a great background of experience in the service of organized dentistry. In addition to serving as President-elect, Dr. Luebke has held the offices of Vice-president and Treasurer of the parent society, has served on the Membership, Limited Attendance, Registration and Ethics Committees, as a member and in each case as Chairman. He served his Branch, the North Side, in all offices and on many committees. He was a member of the Executive Council of the Illinois State Dental Society and of many State Society committees. For the American Dental Association he has served as a delegate and alternate and on the Membership Council.

Dr. Luebke is a member of Psi Omega Fraternity and of the Federation Dentaire Internationale. His hobbies are hunting and fishing and he is a story-teller par excellence.

Along with his outstanding background of society and business experience he is gifted with a fine sense of humor, good nature, calm demeanor and is just a nice guy. With his helpmate, Hazel, who these many years has been his devoted companion, to back him up, we are sure that the Society will be in very capable hands and we look forward to another banner year. Good Luck, Ed!

VICE-PRESIDENT

Dr. Ernest Goldhorn, our new Vice-president, has just completed a successful three-year term on the Board of Directors from the Englewood Branch. While on the Board he served on the very important Finance Committee, during the past year as its Chairman. Ernie has served the Englewood Branch in many committee assignments and held all offices including the presidency in 1949. He has been a member on a number of State Society committees and most recently was Chairman of the Group Dental Health Care Plans Committee. He has served the American Dental Association on its Industrial Committee of the Council on Dental Health. Ernie was Director of Dental Health of the Pullman Company from 1923 to 1950 and President of the American Association of Industrial Dentists in 1944. He had much to do with setting up the program for Industrial Dental Care of the Illinois State Dental Society.

Dr. Ernest Goldhorn, Vice-president

Ernie was born in Chicago, received his preliminary education in Chicago and was graduated from Chicago College of Dental Surgery, Loyola University in 1921 and has practiced in the Roseland area since graduation. He is a member of Psi Omega Fraternity, Federation Dentaire Internationale and the Kensington Blue Lodge. He resides with Mrs. Goldhorn and their son in the Roseland community. Ernie should prove to be a very valuable officer.

SECRETARY

Dr. George W. Teuscher was born, raised and educated in Evanston, Illinois, and brings to the secretaryship of the Society an extremely distinguished record as a student, teacher and, more recently, as Dean of the Northwestern University Dental School. A graduate of Northwestern, he holds many degrees including a Master of Science in Pedodontics, Master of Arts in Education—Psychology, and a Doctorate in Education. He has taught at his Alma Mater since 1935, first as an instructor, then assistant professor, associate professor, professor in pedodontics, and on July 1, 1953, he became Dean of the Dental School. He has served his specialty group in many offices, including that of President of the American Society of Dentistry for Children; has been a Chairman and member of many committees in the Chicago Dental Society and the American Dental Association and related groups. He is a member of the American College of Dentists and was Chairman of its Illinois Section; is Secretary-Treasurer of the Supreme Chapter of Omicron Kappa Upsilon Honorary Fraternity, and is a Past-president of the Odontographic Society. Suffice it to say the secretaryship is in extremely capable hands.

In addition to being a member of professional societies too numerous to list,

Dr. James N. Lynch, Treasurer

Dr. Teuscher is a staff member of Wesley Memorial Hospital, Consultant to the V.A. Research Hospital and to the American Dental Association Council on Dental Education. He is a member of Rotary International, the Tavern Club and the University Club.

George shares his very busy life with his wife, Eleanor, and two children, Carol Ann and John.

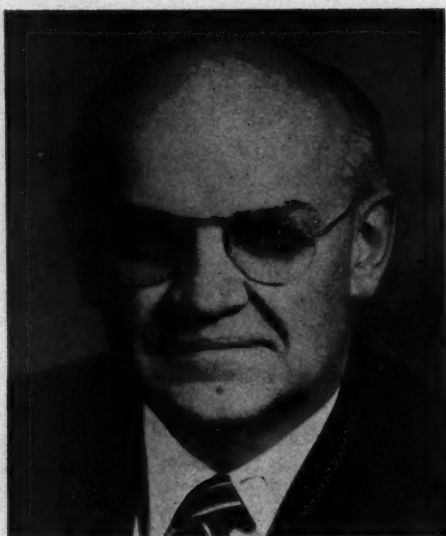

Dr. George W. Teuscher, Secretary

TREASURER

James N. Lynch, the new Treasurer, was born and raised on the south side of Chicago. Graduating from Mount Carmel High School in 1930, he then attended the University of Illinois and was graduated from the Dental School in 1937. He practiced on the south side until 1943 when he entered the Navy. After service, he opened an office in Evanston and has practiced there since.

Dr. Lynch has long been interested and active in dental affairs, having given many clinics and held various offices in the Illinois State Dental Society, the Chicago Dental Society and its branches. His most recent positions have been Chairman of the Publicity Committee for the mother society and President of the Dental Alumni Association of the University of Illinois. He is married, the father of four children and resides in Glenview.

PRESIDENT-ELECT

Dr. Walter E. Dundon is our president-elect and will assume the office in June of next year. A New Yorker by birth and raised in upper New York, Walt took his work at Chicago College of Dental Surgery, Loyola University, graduating in 1927. He began the practice of dentistry in Hyde Park and recently has changed to the Garland building in the Loop. Walter has served Kenwood-Hyde Park Branch as a member and Chairman of many committees, as its Vice-president and from 1948 to 1951 as the Director to the Chicago Dental Society. In the parent society he has rendered outstanding service on many committees and as Chairman of the Prosthetic Service and Law Enforcement Committees has given yeoman service. As Chairman of the Program Committee of the 90th Midwinter Meeting, he did an outstanding job. Walter has served the Society as its Treasurer and Secretary with distinction and diligence. In the State Society he has also been very active, serving on numerous committees. In the American Dental Association, Walter has served as a Delegate and Alternate and at the present time is the Chairman of the very vital Council on Dental Trade and Laboratory Relations.

Walt is a Delta Sig, member of the American College of Dentists, Executives Club of Chicago, and the Odontographic Society of Chicago, serving his fifth year as Secretary of the latter.

Certainly Dr. Dundon comes to this high office very well qualified. Walt's wife and "Girl Friday," Katherine, has always shown the greatest interest in Society affairs and, as in the past, will give him every assistance when his year comes around.

NEW DIRECTORS

Dr. O. E. Scott succeeds hard-working Dr. Olan Kibler as the director from the North Suburban Branch and brings to his office a wealth of experience in civic and dental society activities as well as those of his church. He is a graduate of Northwestern University Dental School and, with the exception of the first three years, has practiced in Evanston.

He has held all offices as well as many committee assignments in the Evanston Association of Dentists and has served on many committees of the North Suburban branch as well as having held all its elective offices, having had an outstanding year as president. He has served the parent Society on many committees, most recently as Chairman of Scientific Exhibits.

In addition to civic club memberships, Dr. Scott is a member of the Graduate Chapter of Delta Sigma Delta, the Federation Dentaire Internationale and the American Denture Society. The directorship of North Suburban will be in most capable hands.

Dr. Eric Lindholm succeeds Dr. Ernest

Like the swallows that come back to Capistrano this guy's picture comes back every year to remind us of the CDS Golf Outing and it always gets us in trouble because every year somebody thinks it's a takeoff of him and threatens to sue the Society. But when he sees how long the line is he gives up and usually buys a couple of tickets to the Outing instead. Strictly speaking it isn't really a picture of anybody in particular at all—it is a picture of the happy, blissfully-ignorant-of-moil-and-toil-type character you can feel like if you let the solemn brood of care plod its weary way without you for a spell and come out and have fun with the boys on

HIGH SPEED PROGRESS

While the concept of higher speeds with rotary instruments has been accepted by the dental profession as an aid in the control of trauma, there is still considerable confusion as to the most advantageous speed at which to operate. The author of this article has for a year used potential speeds of 55,000 RPM with the straight handpiece, and 42,000 RPM with the contra-angle. In his opinion, the main limitation on speed depends on the available equipment rather than the ability of the operator to control it. In most cases, the change in technic to the light touch necessary as speeds are increased, is easily accomplished. In his experience, the ideal speed for rotary instruments operated by gear driven angles and handpieces is approximately 25,000 RPM. With speeds over 25,000 there are more problems than advantages. The straight handpiece can operate above 30,000, but 25,000 is the limit for contra-angles. Diamond instruments are satisfactory in this area, but carbides have a high vibration frequency. A new investigation has been in progress by a group of dentists who believe that for really efficient operation it is necessary to go beyond the vibration perception of the patient. This has resulted in a new type of contra-angle handpiece that produces speeds of over 100,000 RPM. Conventional dental motors will produce an adequate working speed of over 100,000 RPM when equipped with a high speed drive unit. The new contra-angle is belt driven, eliminating the conventional gears and making lubrication unnecessary, completely solving the heat problem. The cutting instrument is mounted in a rubber bushing. This insulates the bur shank from any vibration originating within the driving mechanism. Carbide burs make efficient cutting tools, and only small instruments are necessary. A size equal to a 558, in either a diamond or carbide, seems to be the maximum. When using round burs, sizes 1, 2, and 4, inverted cones 34, 35, and 37, and fissure burs 701 and 558, all types of intracoronal preparations are easily completed. The carbides function satisfactorily at speeds above 100,000 RPM with this instrument. The instrument is handled like a small paint brush, with very light pressure. Inasmuch as there is no vibration there is better control than experienced with any other instrument. Water or water-air lubrication is necessary at all times with the same application and equipment as used at lower speeds. The important feature is that treatment is completed above the vibration perception of the patient, and he is not conscious of the cutting tool against the tooth structure. This fact, plus the great reduction in traumatic effect results in better dentistry. — ACCELERATED HANDPIECE SPEEDS IN RESTORATIVE DENTISTRY, by R. A. McEwen, D.D.S. The New York State Dental Journal, December, 1955. O.C.L.

ADHESION OF ACRYLIC FILLING MATERIALS

A simple method is described which increases the adhesion of acrylic filling materials to enamel surfaces. A phosphoric acid and a phosphomolybdate-oxalic acid treatment were used to alter enamel surfaces chemically. The phosphoric acid treatment gave better results and is easier to use. It is recommended for sealing acrylics in pits and fissures as a method of caries prevention. The method as described consisted of applying a small drop of 85 per cent phosphoric acid to a tooth which had been pumice-cleaned and alcohol-washed just before

NEWS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

Re LAB DECISION

A letter received at our Central Office addressed to our attorney Mr. John R. Porter of Eckert, Peterson and Lowry is so very typical of the many addressed to him, to our officers and directors and to our committee workers that it is well to set it forth here:

"Your great victory for dentistry in People ex rel Chicago Dental Society et al vs. A A A Dental Laboratories, Inc. et al is the greatest accomplishment for the profession.

"May I humbly add my congratulations for a valiant, fearless fighter's achievement in behalf of a worthy profession.

"The officers and membership of the Chicago Dental Society have earned the respect and admiration of all for their persistence in such a long and costly crusade to keep dentistry from falling into the hands of gutter commercialism."

The letter is from a law enforcement committee chairman in New York State. Another evidence of the widespread interest in the recent Supreme Court decision is the demand from all sections for reprints of the decision as handed down by the Court. The original order for printing was revised upward three times and requests for reprints now are being met by mailing copies of the REVIEW containing it.

APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE FOR A.D.A. PROGRAM

The Central Office of the Chicago Dental Society has on hand a supply of blanks facilitating application for space in the Scientific Exhibit or time on the Motion Picture Program of the forthcoming American Dental Association meeting in Atlantic City. These must be returned by June 15. Telephone RAndolph 6-4076.

U. OF I. GOLF OUTING

The Annual Reunion and Golf Outing of the University of Illinois Alumni Association will take place at Glendale Country Club on June 13.

DR. SOLFRONK REPORTS ON MICHIGAN MEETING

Dr. Gustav Solfronk, President of the Chicago Dental Society, represented the Society at the Centennial Meeting of the Michigan State Dental Association at Detroit on April 18th and 19th. He was one of the honored guests at the Centennial Banquet and brought back glowing reports as to the excellence of the meeting and the wonderful hospitality shown him. An interesting program of essays and clinics was presented with clinicians representing every section of the country. At the Centennial Banquet a number of outstanding leaders were recognized for their contributions to dentistry and among them was one of our own Chicago men, Dr. Harold Hillenbrand; although we are afraid we can no longer claim him as our own for he has become "Mr. American Dental Association." Harold was honored for his outstanding service to dentistry as an administrator, educator, and editor. Our sincere congratulations, Harold, we are justly proud of you.

INTERPROFESSIONAL COUNCIL ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Wednesday, April 25th, marked the first year of activities of the Aux Plaines branch of the Illinois State Interprofessional Council. This organization is the first of similar ones to be formed on a local level.

The meeting was held at the Oak Park Arms Hotel. Dr. Edward A. Piszcek, who

Another Milestone

Dr. Hoeltgen, Mayor Daley and Dr. Solfronk join in drinking the first fluoridated water to flow through Chicago's mains.

Another milestone in preventive dentistry was reached in the Chicago area when the fluoridation of the water supply for the southern section of the City became a fact on Tuesday morning, May 1st. After a brief formal program held in the auditorium of the South District Filtration Plant, Mayor Daley, Dr. Maurice Hoeltgen, president of the Chicago Medical Society, Dr. Gustav W. Solfronk, president of the Chicago Dental Society, and Alderman Cilella, Chairman of the Fluoridation Committee of the City Council, collaborated in turning the valve which fed fluorides into the water supply.

The formal portion of the program was handled very ably by Mr. James W. Jardine who presided. After a few introductory remarks, Mr. Edgar T. Stephens, Director of the Committee on Dental Health Education of the Chicago Dental Society, was introduced and he in turn presented members of the medical and dental professions. Dr. Hoeltgen addressed the assembly and expressed best wishes of the Medical Society for this momentous step. Then came an expression by Dr. Solfronk who pointed out the long arduous road which had to be covered in order to bring this great effort to a successful conclusion. He pointed out that Chicago was now the largest city to have its water supply fluoridated and what a great blessing to the citizens of Chicago it should be. Dr. F. Lee Stone then echoed the opinions expressed in speaking for the Illinois Medical Society. Dr. Robert Pollock next spoke briefly for the Illinois State Dental Society, expressing the hope that the great forward step of the city of Chicago would be a stimulus to other cities throughout the State to follow the example of our great city. Dr. James Lewis, Dental Director of the Department of Health Education and Welfare, congratulated the citizens of Chicago on the great dental health benefits which will be our children's because of this preventive measure. Dr. Trendley Dean, one of the real pioneers in fluoridation research, expressed his very deep gratitude for this forward step and how happy he was to see a program of such magnitude come into being. As Secretary of the Council on Dental Research, Dr. Dean and his associates furnished most of the pertinent data and did the very conclusive research. This concluded this portion of the program presided over by Mr. Stephens which he did in a very able manner.

Mr. Jardine then presented his Honor, Mayor Daley, who in a short but exceedingly effective manner expressed his appreciation for the aid and leadership given by the Chicago Dental Society and the American Dental Association and the valuable help of the Medical Societies in checking on certain areas of research. He congratulated the citizens on the accomplishment of this great health measure and assured us of his wholehearted support. He expressed his appreciation to the members of the City Council for their vision and help.

Mr. Jardine then presented Alderman William Harvey, chairman of the Health Committee of the City Council, who expressed his joy over the benefits that will come to children because of fluoridated water in Chicago.

Alderman Alfred Cilella, Chairman, Fluoridation Committee of the City Council, the man who introduced the original ordinance and who has piloted, pushed, plugged and done everything humanly possible to bring about its passage, spoke very briefly of the six years of effort and perseverance to see the program to a successful conclusion.

We were then shown a few slides dealing with the operation of the South District Filtration Plant, the largest in the world. After this we adjourned to tour the Filtration plant and witness the ceremony of turning the valve which began the fluoridation of the water supply in Chicago.

Truly this is a milestone in preventive dentistry and a blessing to countless children and those yet unborn. We as a profession should be justly proud for we can join with our brothers of the medical profession in making a great forward step in our professions' battle to stem the tide against mankind's most prevalent and common disease.

The following suburbs receive their water supply from the South District Filtration Plant: Bedford Park, Blue Island, Burnham, Calumet City, Calumet Park, Dixmoor, Dolton, Evergreen Park, Forest View, Harvey, Hazel Crest, Hometown, Markham, Merriquette Park, Midlothian, Oak Lawn, Phoenix, Posen, Riverdale, Robbins, South Holland, Stickney, Summit. Also included is the South District Sanitary District.

Loyola's Student A.D.A. Clinic and Honors Day Huge Success

Two hundred and sixty students, faculty members and guests attended the Sixth Annual Student A. D. A. Clinic Day and Honors Day Program of the Student American Dental Association of the Chicago College of Dental Surgery, Loyola University on Wednesday, April 18th. From its small beginning as an untried experiment in student-faculty-college

William Fletcher, '59 and Mr. Frank Madro, '58 tied for fourth place. All of these essays were extremely well done and impressed the panel of judges made up of men prominent in organized dentistry in the local, state and national spheres.

Thirty table clinics were presented following the essay contest. Here again, an relationships this event has established itself in this short time as one of the brightest events in the dental year.

The essay presentation contest which led off the afternoon of clinical activity was won by Mr. Alexius Crowley, '56 speaking on "The Keystone of Successful Practice: The Diagnosis." Second place was won by Mr. Patrick Trusz, '57; Mr. Harry Staffileno, '56 and Mr. Richard Swoiskin, '56 tied for third place and Mr.

extremely high and uniform degree of excellence maintained and it was only after a most searching discussion by the judges that a gradation into place winners was made. Winners in the table clinics presentations were in this order for the first six places: Mr. Hal Larson and Mr. James Cadwell, Mr. Millen Moffat and Mr. Loren Mills, Mr. Harry Staffileno, Mr. Raul Acevedo, Mr. John Bach and, sixth, Mr. Robert Solinski and Mr.

Franklin Yoshikane. Any of these thirty clinics, let alone the winners, would have done credit to any dental meeting in the country.

Certificates emblematic of the awarding of the above prizes were presented to the winners at the evening dinner meeting in the Central District Manufacturers Club. On this Honors Program were included as well awards in the different Departments of the college to the outstanding students for the year and various awards of certificates and keys for proficiency in different areas of student achievement. Faculty awards voted by the student body were the Golden Microscope to Dr. Gustav Rapp, Head of the Department of Biochemistry, Physiology and Pharmacology and the Golden Tooth to Dr. Paul Dawson, Head of the Department of Operative Dentistry.

If this day, replete as it was with sound well-presented essays and clinics and key-noted throughout with an eager and boundless enthusiasm for dentistry and the dental profession, is typical of the rising generation of dentists our future is indeed a bright and shining one.

We rightfully eulogize men who have during their lifetime made conspicuous contributions to our profession, either scientifically or in organizational efforts. Too often we limit to a mere obituary notice the quiet man who, although maintaining his membership through the years, is rarely seen at a dental meeting. Occasionally such a man has, by his natural talent for dentistry and by keeping abreast of the literature, been a very good dentist, and done much to gain respect for his profession through his sincerity and exceptional zeal to help his fellow man. Such a man was Leonidas Carlton Hibbard, son of a civil war soldier, raised on a farm near Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, graduated from the University of Illinois in 1917, and practicing at Broadway and Wilson ever since his graduation.

Dr. Hibbard's hobby was religion and church work. One of his patients said he would extract a tooth with one hand, and try to convert you with the other. It was not beneath his dignity to climb to the roof and maintain the large electric sign on the North Shore church, having been an electrician before studying dentistry, and to donate a day a week giving dental care in an office he outfitted to help the downtrodden at the Pacific Garden Mission. Most men with his convictions would have left dentistry for the ministry, but Dr. Hibbard felt that he could best serve humanity by administering to their dental health as well as their spiritual. His great sincerity and earnestness were appreciated by all who knew him, including his own children, who gave him the satisfaction, seldom experienced by a parent, of choosing the life work which would most please their father. Two in foreign missionary work, one in religious work at home, and the fourth, following his father's original interest, in electronics, are living proofs of the value of good parental example and precept.—James D. Mershimer, D.D.S.

WEST SUBURBAN

Spring, it's here. We thought a few months ago that when it would appear, we'd be able to slow down, just take our shoes off and loll in the new-cut grass. . . . What an awakening for there's just as much to do and even more. . . . Had a great thrill on April 18th visiting the Loyola Student A.D.A. Day. There were six essays on vital subjects in dentistry given in an hour's time. All with such enthusiasm, punch and audience appeal that no one of the over two hundred in the audience talked, whispered or left the room during the presentations. These future dentists will not only make fine essayists but better audiences than the past generations have been. Then I saw and also attempted to judge thirty well organized table clinics with clinicians who had interesting, varied material and well presented. Congratulations to the dental schools, the faculties and to the future of dentistry, we will welcome the new life they give. . . . We in West Suburban should be proud of our men who give of their time to the future of dentistry by teaching full or part time. On the membership roster are about twenty-five, the latest of which is Clarence Hanson who is at the U. of I. teaching Oral Diagnosis one day a week. . . . Received a card from Bill Kirby at Pinecrest, N. C., who is there with Mrs. Kirby and Truman and Mrs. De Witt. They are practicing their golf for an early start at high

KENWOOD-HYDE PARK

John McBride is hoping that your plans for the next few weeks include the KENWOOD GOLF OUTING ON JUNE 6TH. There will be prizes galore and even though Sid Berg has his eye on the low gross prize there will be more to shoot for. John McBride reports that the course at the NAVAJO HILLS is in terrific shape this year and if you will call John at So 8-7624 or Ascher Jacobs at Pl 2-5322 they will be more than glad to accept your reservation. Everybody enjoyed the outing last year, so why not join in the fun on JUNE 6TH AT NAVAJO HILLS and have a real gone time? . . . Warren Lutton spent a couple of days at the LaSalle hotel taking a refresher course in economics. . . . Linn Cooley was in an automobile accident a few weeks ago and is now recuperating at home. . . . Kenwood has special interest in the May 22nd meeting of the Chicago Dental Society—Our own Walt Dundon will be installed as President-elect of the Chicago Dental Society and Rudy Grieff will receive his Certificate for a job well done during the past year at Kenwood. Bring the ladies to hear Dr. Winters, a well-known humorist and help cheer for the Kenwood gang. . . . Ben Herzberg gave a limited attendance clinic and presided as moderator at a round table discussion during the American Association of Orthodontists meeting in Boston. . . . Asher Sherow visited his in-laws in Chattanooga and enjoyed a little warm weather. . . . Graham Davies missed the installation ceremony during Ladies' Night to be on the program of the Montana State Dental Society—but we call him Dr. President anyway. Arthur Block also attended the American Association of Orthodontists meeting in Boston. . . . Ben Binderman had a great time in California. . . . Larry and Mrs. Johnson couldn't wait for the warm weather to come to Chicago so they went to Biloxi and other points south to warm up a bit.—Howard J. Harvey, Branch Correspondent.

treatment, and rubbing it over the enamel surface for 30 seconds. It was then washed off with water and carefully dried, and a drop of an acrylic filling resin was applied. Of the treated and untreated teeth involved in the experiment, the acrylic drops on the untreated teeth adhered for an average of 11 hours, the drops on the treated teeth remained on the enamel surfaces for an average of 1,070 hours. On the treated teeth 50 per cent of the drops were removed mechanically, and required considerable force with a sharp instrument. The other 50 per cent were still on the teeth 90 days after application. The resistance of the bond to the humidity of the mouth seemed good. It would be necessary to test the resistance of this bond to acid and bacterial action, and to evaluate moisture resistance over long periods of time.—A SIMPLE METHOD OF INCREASING THE ADHESION OF ACRYLIC FILLING MATERIALS TO ENAMEL SURFACES, by Michael G.
